

ADIDAS CONSORTIUM Y'S SUPER POSITION design - new shoes Network - Information Network Jordan CP3.V - - News Reports

Release

Japanese Design Guru Yamamoto Teruji and Adidas have been working together, and recently with their cooperation to create a new Y'S SUPER POSITION.

shoes are modeled on the classic Superstar, featuring a full black logo and full white color, made of highly textured leather.

The most special thing about is that designers have replaced the traditional three stripe logo with a knitting method, making the appearance of the shoes more unique.

this series of shoes has been purchased at the franchised store.

although Chris · Paul in China, but his latest sneaker Jordan CP3.V quietly on the other side of the ocean to emerge. The triangle geometric texture vamp is the consistent style of Paul signature shoes, and this unique design is not functional in terms of functionality such as fly line and Fuse. In addition, Podulon shock technology re return, but also to increase the strength of these shoes a lot of confidence. Outsole, a small amount of ice bottom elements, so that these shoes on the appearance of a lot of fashion, although the geometry of the outer shape of the texture is messy, but the actual friction effect is outstanding, absolutely practical! The exact date of sale of this shoe is unknown, so please keep an eye on our follow-up report.
